

Wordmaster Form

If able, the Wordmaster stands at their seat when explaining their role or giving their report.

Word of the Day: _____

➡ Follow your club's protocol for displaying the Word of the Day.

At the beginning of the meeting, when called upon, you will stand and state the purpose of the Wordmaster.

"The purpose of the Wordmaster is to help us be more aware of our language usage. Today's Word of the Day is _____. Its definition is _____. Here are examples of its use in a sentence _____. Your goal, during the course of the meeting, is to try to find an opportunity to use this word correctly, in a natural, appropriate, and sensible way. Secondly, I will be tracking speaking filler-words that we want to get rid of; words like: ah...um...so...like...er...uh...yeah... whatever... ok...you-know...plus excessive ands. Mr./Madam MC."

Fill in the names of participants at the meeting. In the space next to their names, keep a tally of the filler words you hear the person use throughout the meeting, and check off if you hear them use the Word of the Day, correctly. When it's your (the Wordmaster's) turn to answer an impromptu (or some other speaking opportunity) have another member count your filler words!

How to give your report at the end of the meeting

"Thank you, Mr./Madam MC. The people who used the Word of the Day were ____.
Now, for the count of filler words: ____."
